

Kevin Witkos

Biography

Representative Kevin Witkos (R-Avon, Canton) was re-elected to his second term in the State House of Representatives on November 2, 2004.

Representative Witkos serves as Ranking member on the legislature's Program Review and Investigations Committee, and serves as a member on the Education and Public Safety Committees.

During his first term in the legislature, Representative Witkos was noted for introducing key improvements to school testing standards, and protective orders statutes. He was also the first Republican legislator to call for the resignation of former Governor John G. Rowland amid accusations of corruption in the administration.

Prior to being elected to the State House of Representatives, Kevin distinguished himself by being heavily involved in his community. He served as Vice Chairman of the Canton Board of Education, and is a former Chief of the Canton Volunteer Fire Department. He has also served as the Capitol Area Substance Abuse Council Representative, and is President of the Local Chapter of AFSCME Council #15.

Representative Witkos is employed as a police officer for the town of Canton, a post he has held since 1989. He lives in the Town of Canton with his wife Esther and their two children, Kyra and Kevin Jr.
